

Johnson Urges Moderation In Civil Rights Struggle

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, deploring violence and disorder in the civil rights struggle, says all groups should exercise moderation and try to understand the other fellow's viewpoint.

Johnson was asked to comment Thursday, at his biggest-ever news conference, on civil rights demonstrations that run against the law or threaten violence.

He replied: "We do not, of course, condone violence or taking the law into your own hands, or threatening the health or safety of our people. You really do the civil rights cause no good when you go to this extent."

The President also expounded on national defense controversies, the rail negotiations, the booming economy and politics.

At one point, he virtually announced his candidacy for a four-year White House term, saying he was enjoying his work and "prepared to continue."

The conference, broadcast live by television and radio networks, marked Johnson's first appearance in the big State Department auditorium where President John F. Kennedy held all his sessions with newsmen.

Wearing television blue, Johnson faced the biggest news conference crowd on record—512 reporters and conventioners members of the American Society of Newspaper Editors. The previous high was 437 for a 1961

Kennedy conference. Speaking slowly, softly, and tossing out occasional quips, Johnson volunteered eight announcements and fielded 16 questions with apparent ease during the 31-minute conference.

Asked to give his attitude on civil disobedience as a tactic in the civil rights struggle, Johnson said, "We do not think the violation of one right or the denial of one right, should permit the violation of another right."

The President said he would "counsel moderation to all groups, and understanding of their fellow men and trying to appreciate his position."

He said that as long as racial discrimination exists, "We are going to have protests and we are entitled to protest and petition under our constitutional rights."

But he expressed the view that Senate action "with reasonable dispatch" on the civil rights bill would "bring those protests and bring those petitions and bring those disturbances from the streets and the alleys into the courts where they belong." In the political sphere, Johnson said he expects the presidential campaign to be "a hard fight, a difficult one."

And he drew laughter by adding, "I would hope that it wouldn't be too close."

Reminded that a poll of editors indicated broad expectation of a Johnson victory at the polls, the President commented, "I hope that they feel in November as they do in April."

And when asked if he were concerned about the possibility that independent electors committed to neither major party might be elected in Southern states, Johnson said: "I would always be concerned about any elector that was not committed to vote for me."

Johnson said Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara "operates a tight budget" but an adequate one.

"You can depend on what he tells you," the President said. Johnson also said he would personally make a decision "that I think is in the national interest" on whether to adopt proposals by Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, Air Force chief of staff, for development of a new bomber.

by President Johnson included these:

The national economy operated at a record annual rate of $608.5 billion in the January-March quarter, an increase of $8.5 billion from the final quarter of 1963.

Johnson said he was "not an overly optimistic man" but believes the dispute that threatens a nationwide rail strike can be settled through collective bargaining. "I hope and pray it will be by the end of the week," he said.

Barry Disputes Arms Figures

Says Russia Slashes U.S. Military Lead

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater charges the Johnson administration has "recklessly underestimated" the Communists and allowed the U. S. missile lead to falter.

The Arizona Republican swung away from a prepared speech at a rally Thursday night and stirred up his dispute with Defense Secretary Robert McNamara.

He differed sharply with McNamara's assertion—backed by President Johnson — that this country is increasing its arms superiority over the Soviet Union.

Goldwater referred to figures released by the Pentagon Wednesday. Its report countered testimony by Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, Air Force chief of staff, that the Soviet Union has closed in on the U.S. edge in military strength.

The Pentagon figures are misleading, Goldwater said, given out only to silence critics.

Must Lose 3½ Overweight Tons

Patrolmen In Georgia Ordered To Shed Beef

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Georgia State Patrolmen, ordered to lose more than three-and-a-half tons in overweight, have been promised a reward that most women relish when they, too, go on a diet: New outfits.

In the troopers' case, they're getting new uniforms—but not until September, their deadline date for trimming down.

As an extra enticement, the troopers will get Sam Browne belts, which admittedly will look smarter on pouchless officers.

The order went out last June to the 418 members of the State Patrol: Lose more than three-and-a-half tons by September of 1964. Three-hundred-and-one were overweight.

The results: More than two tons lost after 11 months of dieting.

The target: Another ton-and-a-half off by September.

And the punishment if they don't lose? Disciplinary action. "I issued the order," said Col. Lowell Conner, boss of the troopers, "and I expect it to be

Operation Performed on French Chief

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle was reported to have undergone an operation for a urinary tract disorder today, but one official said "there is no reason for anxiety."

The semi-official French News Agency reported that the president underwent surgery this morning. It said the operation was on the urinary tract and lasted a bit more than one hour.

There was no immediate official confirmation of this report. The agency said that De Gaulle was taken to the Cochin Hospital about 9 p.m. Thursday

Genetic Code Solution Is Step Nearer

CHICAGO (AP) — Scientists today announced a great new step toward deciphering the genetic code of life itself.

This code determines all your heredity—eye color, sex, even partly your chances for long life—and how all living cells behave.

Man's telegraphic Morse code can say anything just with dots and dashes. Nature's genetic code is basically simple, too. It uses only four chemical "letters."

But no one knows how nature forms thousands of words or commands with those few letters. A long sentence of these words is a gene.

Now researchers have succeeded in making synthetic bits of genetic material. They know, in advance, the sequence of letters in each simple piece.

These bits of "genes" now can be used to make short pieces of protein—the material all life is made of.

By determining what kind of protein is made each time, they could trace back to spell out nature's full code that makes people or animals or plants what they are, and in such tremendous individuality.

The new step is chemical methods of making the synthetic chains of genetic material, or DNA.

These were described to the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology by a team of University of Wisconsin researchers, headed by Dr. H. Gobind Khorana. He's been searching for this key for 10 years.

Dr. T. Mathai Jacob presented today's report. Drs. Malcolm W. Moon, Saran A. Narang and Eiko Ohtsuka are co-authors. Their models of genes are biologically active. In the pres-

De Gaulle Aims Policies Defense

Replies to Critics on Aid, Arms Spending

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle defended his program of aid to underdeveloped nations Thursday night against critics who think he ought to spend part of the money for French schools and housing.

He also told a nationwide radio-television audience that France must continue to develop its independent nuclear force to keep from becoming an American protectorate and to dissuade a Soviet attack.

De Gaulle, 73, made no new policy declaration. His chief purpose appeared to be to reply to mounting criticism in France against heavy expenditures for nuclear weapons and foreign aid.

France is spending approximately 1.8 per cent of its Gross National Product on foreign aid, the highest percentage in the world and more than double the .72 per cent the United States spends. Critics protest that more money should be used at home, especially for educational facilities and housing.

France's annual birth rate increased about 300,000 between 1942 and 1946, and institutions of higher learning must turn away thousands of students for lack of room. There is a critical housing shortage.

Since he returned to power in 1958, De Gaulle said, France has boosted education spending

Died Suddenly At 53

George Ewing Farrington, 53, president of the Salem Rotary Club and chief engineer for the rolling mill division of the E. W. Bliss Co., died suddenly of a heart attack at the Salem Central Clinic at 8:50 p.m. Thursday.

He had been ill at his home, 525 S. Lincoln Ave., for the past 10 days but did not enter the hospital until yesterday morning.

Secretary Pledges Continued U.S. Aid

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk arrived today and declared South Viet Nam will have peace when Red China and Communist North Viet Nam "have been taught to leave their neighbors alone."

He pledged continued U.S. aid. Rusk immediately opened talks with U.S. officials and found the situation so interesting that he will extend his scheduled two-day stay for an extra day.

Robert Manning, assistant secretary of state for public affairs, told reporters Rusk will leave Monday morning instead of noon Sunday as had been originally planned.

Rusk had planned to address two semipublic ceremonies in Washington on Monday morning "but now that he is here and found the situation so interesting he wants to stay awhile and we have managed to have them postponed," Manning said.

Rusk went from the airport to the U.S. Embassy in downtown Saigon to confer with U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and the commander of the American military forces in Saigon, Gen. Paul D. Harkins.

On Saturday, Rusk will confer with Saigon's premier, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, and will visit the Communist-threatened countryside.

Rusk emphasized to senior Americans that President Johnson has an "extremely personal interest" in the Vietnamese situation, Manning said.

Rusk carried no special message to Lodge or Harkins "but he passed on some of President Johnson's personal views on matters here," Manning added.

He also discussed the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization meeting he attended in Manila. Lodge and Harkins gave Rusk a two-hour briefing at the embassy. This was followed by discussions with key American personnel, including U.S. aid and information officials. Rusk will begin a round of official calls Saturday by meeting Foreign Minister Phan Huy Quat. Later he will meet Khanh and then drive with him to 5th Division headquarters at nearby Bien Hoa.

Rusk's party planes there for a trip into the countryside. The destination has not been announced for security reasons.

Glenn's Name Kept on Ballot

Top Court Refuses To Eliminate Marine

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court kept Lt. Col. John H. Glenn's name on Ohio's Democratic U. S. senatorial ballot today, but gave an opponent until Monday to plead further.

The state's highest court refused to order the 42-year-old space hero eliminated from a four-way race, despite his belated attempt to withdraw because of a head injury and later complications which affected his inner ear.

But Glenn has insisted he is out of the race for good, and would not run even if nominated.

An opponent, Albert T. Ball, 56, Cleveland business consultant, had asked the court to order Glenn's name blacked out on ballots already printed and to prevent a count of votes cast for him. Twenty of Ohio's 88 counties using voting machines.

Atty. Gen. William Saxbe filed a demurrer for Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, contending that Ball lacked a cause for action. The court sustained the demurrer, but kept the case alive by giving Ball an opportunity to plead further.

Final court action will depend on what Ball does, attaches explained.

SEES PASSAGE OF BILL YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio (AP)—Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., told an Antioch College audience last Thursday that the civil rights bill before the Senate is a "modest halfway measure" but a step forward.

Proxmire predicted passage of the bill this year. He said it actually is weaker than many state laws despite claims some provisions are "radical."

BIGGER THAN THE PYRAMIDS — After four years of dumping stones into Egypt's Nile River, the first section of the Aswan High Dam, largest earthen structure in the world, rises above the water line. More than 17 times as much stone is being used in the vast project as was used in the Great Pyramids of Cheops. When completed in 1968, the dam will create a lake 300 miles long in the desert and irrigate some two million acres.

Armco Plans Expansion at Middletown

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—A $200-million expansion program that will create 1,000 new jobs at its Middletown works has been announced by Armco Steel Corp.

Armco President Logan T. Johnston said "engineering studies have not yet progressed to the point that we can announce details of the full scope of the program."

"We do know, however, that the program will include a new hot strip mill and related facilities at the Middletown works," he added.

"The Middletown improvements and additions will embrace the most modern techniques of steel production and will provide the added capacity needed to serve the markets for flat rolled steel products in this area," he said.

Armco now employs about 8,500 in its Middletown and Hamilton operations. The company lists more than 35,000 employees for its U.S. and international operations.

Johnston said construction on the new program will start this summer, but will take several years to complete.

Johnston made the announcement Thursday at the stockholders' annual meeting and predicted a bright year for 1964. First quarter earnings were up 38 per cent over the same period last year, he reported.

The first quarter profits were $15,042,716 or $1.02 a share. Sales were $238,403,224 and shipments of steel mill products totaled 1,114,007 tons.

In the same period of 1963, Armco earned $11,015,037 or 74 cents a share. Sales were $213,776,177 and shipments totaled 975,470 tons.

All Isn't Bad With Today's Youngsters

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—All is not bad with today's youngsters, regardless of what some oldsters say.

Take, for instance, an experience by Ray Williams, plant manager of a local laundry, to prove the point.

When he reported for work Thursday, he noticed a small window had been broken, and a small hand-written note pinned to the front door.

The note said: "Dear sir: 'I broke your window with my hardball. If you would please tell me how much it would cost to put it back in, I will be glad to pay for it.'"

The note was signed "Ann" and listed her home address.

When Williams talked to the girl's parents, he learned she had told her parents what she had done when they found her crying.

It was only a small pane of glass and Williams replaced it himself.

NEA To Launch Probe of Cleveland School System

CLEVELAND (AP)—The National Education Association said today a special committee will begin April 27 investigating the dispute which led to the resignation of Cleveland School Superintendent William B. Levenson. The six-man committee, which includes two Ohioans, is basing its three-day hearing on what the Cleveland Education Association called "poor professional schools."

Levenson, in a surprise announcement Feb. 13, said he was leaving the $25,000-a-year job at the end of the current school year. His resignation will be effective after his contract expires July 31.

The 56-year-old Levenson, a member of the Cleveland school system for 36 years, became superintendent in 1961.

Levenson declined to say what was behind his resignation which came in the wake of a crisis over integration of Negro pupils transported by bus from overcrowded schools to schools in predominantly white areas.

The NEA committee will look into the following areas: "Failure of the school board to assume its share of the obligation to provide a quality education program for Cleveland children."

"The role of board members in formulating policy and administering the schools."

"Community forces that appear to have a detrimental effect on the educational program."

"Channels of communication between the professional staff, the school board and the community."

"Failure of the board to show staff."

"Adverse effects of political influences on members of the board and their policy-making obligations, and the unique administrative organization of the school system."

My announcement of the 1963 vacation in remembrance of things past was not greeted with enthusiasm. One person's nostalgia is another's trauma.

Denis, 15, wanted to go to Mexico City and see, among other things, the mosaic murals at the University of Mexico library. Melissa, 13, wanted to visit cousins in St. Louis, Mo. Tommy, 8, wanted to go to New York and ride, ride, ride on the subways again. My wife, Gladys, had just as soon stay at home.

Father's plan was approved by a vote of 1-4 with father casting the only affirmative, but deciding, ballot.

So the car rolled northward to El Dorado, Ark., where Gladys once lived. The car wheeled through the city and then stopped. Was this the right street? And if so where was the old house? It was the right street but the house and the neighbors' houses had disappeared to become the site of a big motel.

Mother's high school was just a few blocks away. Looks just like a high school, the children said with unanimity rare for them.

Next to Hot Springs, Ark., now a motel metropolis. Father's house was still there but it brought forth no expression of awe. So we went by the high school. Again, it looked just like a high school.

So far, no runs, no hits, some errors.

The University of Illinois was the next stop. But once on the campus how do you point out a building once important to you when it has been torn down? Describe the huge trees which lined the Broadwalk when they have been replaced by younger and healthier but much smaller trees? Identify a building which wasn't there years ago but now has ivy?

The university library fortunately was in its accustomed place but it appeared the stained glass colophons were not as acceptable to Denis as mosaic murals.

"I still want to see Mexico City," said Denis.

"When are we going to St. Louis?" asked Melissa.

"Is it far from here to New York?" asked Tommy.

Two flat tires and 2.381 miles later I mentioned the trip to an old friend who had lived in Hot Springs when I did.

"I sometimes wonder," he mused, "if our children are impressed by the place where daddy grew up."

This year: The New York World's Fair by a 5-0 vote.

Ann Landers Answers

Dear Ann Landers: Ten years ago I married a woman with a 5-year-old daughter. From the start, this girl has been the source of problems between us. I thought I could handle it. Now I'm not so sure.

About 18 months ago my wife permitted her daughter to open up three charge accounts. The girl is not mature, in spite of her mother's bragging to the contrary. I became aware of the charge accounts when the girl began to loan her charge plates to friends. Whether her friends ever paid her for their purchases I don't know. I never saw any of the money.

After several months of such foolishness I closed the girl's charge accounts. My wife promptly retaliated by moving into the guest room. She has been there for a year.

I don't wish to live on one side of a "wall" for the rest of my life. Do you think the solution to our problem is a finishing school for the girl? — N.E.L.

Dear N.E.L.: No. The girl is not the problem, she is simply the battlefield on which you and your wife are fighting your own little war.

A wife who would impose this type of exile on her husband has no respect for marriage. When sex is used as a payment for favors — and is withheld as punishment — it places the marriage at the prostitution level.

Insist that she see a clergyman with you or you will put more than a wall between you.

Unwanted Gift

Dear Ann: A new couple moved to our neighborhood last May. They are pleasant, intelligent and have powerful ideas on everything — including politics. They don't get ugly, they do listen to the other side and we enjoy their company. Our politics, however, is at opposite poles.

For Christmas they sent us a year's subscription to a magazine we don't want in our home. Our teen-age son is beginning to think like these people because of articles he reads in this magazine.

We don't wish to offend our friends but we would like to discontinue their gift. Any suggestions? — UNFORTUNATELY GIFTED.

Dear Unfortunates: It sounds as if the magazine is too much of a challenge. What are you afraid of — an idea? Debate is healthy. But if you can't tolerate an opinion other than your own, write to office of the magazine and ask that your subscription be canceled.

Modern 'Sculpture'

Dear Ann Landers: For the umpteenth time I have come home from the beauty shop looking as if I had been skinned. What are the magic words that will convey to the beauty operator that you only want a little taken off — that you don't want to look like Yul Brynner?

I hate to be a cranky customer who directs every snip like a back-seat driver, but even when I beg them to "take it easy with the scissors" I still get hacked to pieces.

Fortunately my hair grows fast, but it took seven weeks to recover from the last "trim." Today it happened again. I wanted to look especially nice for tonight and I'm a mess. I can't afford a wig. Please tell me what to do next time. — FEEL LIKE CRYING.

Dear Crying: Most operators prefer to cut the hair wet ... with a razor. This is the correct method but it requires skill.

Since you've had the same problem repeatedly, your operator must be a klunk. Insist that she (or he) cut your hair dry — with a scissors — so you can see the result of every snip.

200 Arithmetic Exercises

No one ever has tried to calculate the manhours of dismal drudgery going into the preparation of tax returns. The effort demanded of taxpayers rises progressively with the tax bracket.

Fewer than 360,000 filed returns on a simple, four-page form when the 16th Amendment went into effect 50 years ago.

Today, some 35 million persons find it necessary to use Form 1040, which can require upward of 500 entries — including supplemental schedules — and as many as 200 arithmetic exercises in addition, subtraction, multiplication and division.

The superintendent of documents in Washington sells a 144-page volume which spells out major technicalities of the law. But the law, itself, is in process of repeated change. New regulations and court decisions alter interpretations. Publishing technical books on taxes and advising people on taxes have become big business.

The new Internal Revenue Service electronic auditing equipment has scared at least 819 taxpayers, and probably many more, into paying taxes they owed, Commissioner Mortimer Caplin told a House appropriations subcommittee.

Form 1040 this April has nothing to do with the huge tax cut voted in February. It is sad but honest to report that the changes voted his year didn't do a thing to make filling a return any easier, although they relieved 1½ million people of all federal tax liabilities.

Next year's tax forms will be just as complicated as those you filled out or paid to have filled out this year.

We Know How It Is

One of the news subjects we wish there could be a blackout on just before April 15 is public officials who have evaded federal income taxes.

Some of these scofflaws are highly placed — men expected to be exemplars of good citizenship. The latest malefactors are apparently going to be a pair of jurists in Oklahoma.

Indictments have been returned by a federal grand jury naming Oklahoma Supreme Court Justice Earl Welch and supernumerary Judge N. S. Corn. The indictments accused Justice Welch of evading payment of $13,462 in federal income taxes from 1957 through 1961. Judge Corn was indicted for evading $11,763 from 1957 through 1959.

THIS IS depressing for all the rest of us just before the April 15 deadline, while we are scratching together the money to make our peace with Caesar on the Potomac.

It is depressing while we are subtracting line 12 from line 11, whichever is the smaller after it has been divided by whatever is left from line 5 after it has been divided by line 2, multiplied by line 3 and subtracted from 3.1416, provided the latter is not greater than the total of the birthdays that have been celebrated by all dependents over age 16 and still unmarried — or however the jargon goes. See Pg. 4.

We don't even know how to avoid paying more than we owe, thanks to the complicated formula for getting the feathers off the goose.

TAX EVASION is something we associate with racketeers, shysters, crooks and funny shufflers. True, we've been tempted to ditch the whole nerve-jangling mess, too, but we never will. We wouldn't even have the gall to trim down what we think we owe — another thing that depresses us when we hear about six- and seven-digit citizens who trim things down until they pay less income taxes than the littlest of the little people.

If it weren't for pay day when would a man who bowls and plays golf all the time meet his wife who plays bridge and goes to the movies all the time?

Any optimist should tell any pessimist how much more fun he's having out of life.

Poor Hollywood

By Truman Twill

With millions of others, many of them as ignorant as I am about modern movies, we watched the big annual blast of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences Monday night.

We made two mistakes.

The first was to go to bed to watch the show on the little TV set in the bedroom. The second was to become involved in a show that was going to last beyond our bedtime. It wasn't that good.

The lady I watch TV shows in bed with conked out early.

I stayed awake, in a state of drowsiness punctuated only briefly by the artistry of Sammy Davis Jr. — and I would have missed even that solitary high point in a dreary evening if Sammy's crack about the NAACP hadn't elicited a spatter of laughter that roused me.

This was a dreary exhibition. It gave the impression of something the people involved in it were doing from a sense of duty. Everybody was grimly resigned to going through with it and keeping a stiff upper lip — and it showed.

Show biz took a pasting.

NEXT MORNING when I was asked how it all came out, I was unable to remember much about it. "Tom Jones" I could remember. I could remember the fine Negro actor, Sidney Poitier, who won the best actor award. As for the rest of what went on, I couldn't have cared less. This bothers me. One of two things must be wrong, or maybe it's a little of both. Either the glitter has been rubbed off the movies, or my own interest in the glamorous people who formerly symbolized ed the movie industry has vanished — or both.

But even if it's both, the greater factor would be the movies' loss of glamor. As the master of ceremonies, Jack Lemmon said, motion pictures have become an international industry. And as another participant, old-timer Edward G. Robinson implied when he was having trouble with a list of unfamiliar foreign names, the whole thing has got so far away from Hollywood, where the glamor used to be created, that Americans couldn't care less, himself included.

MANY OF THE "Oscars" now go abroad. More and more winners have their trophies picked up for them by friends who happen to be in Hollywood at the time. They, themselves, are too busy in London, Paris, Rome, Tokyo and exotic spots of culture to come to Hollywood.

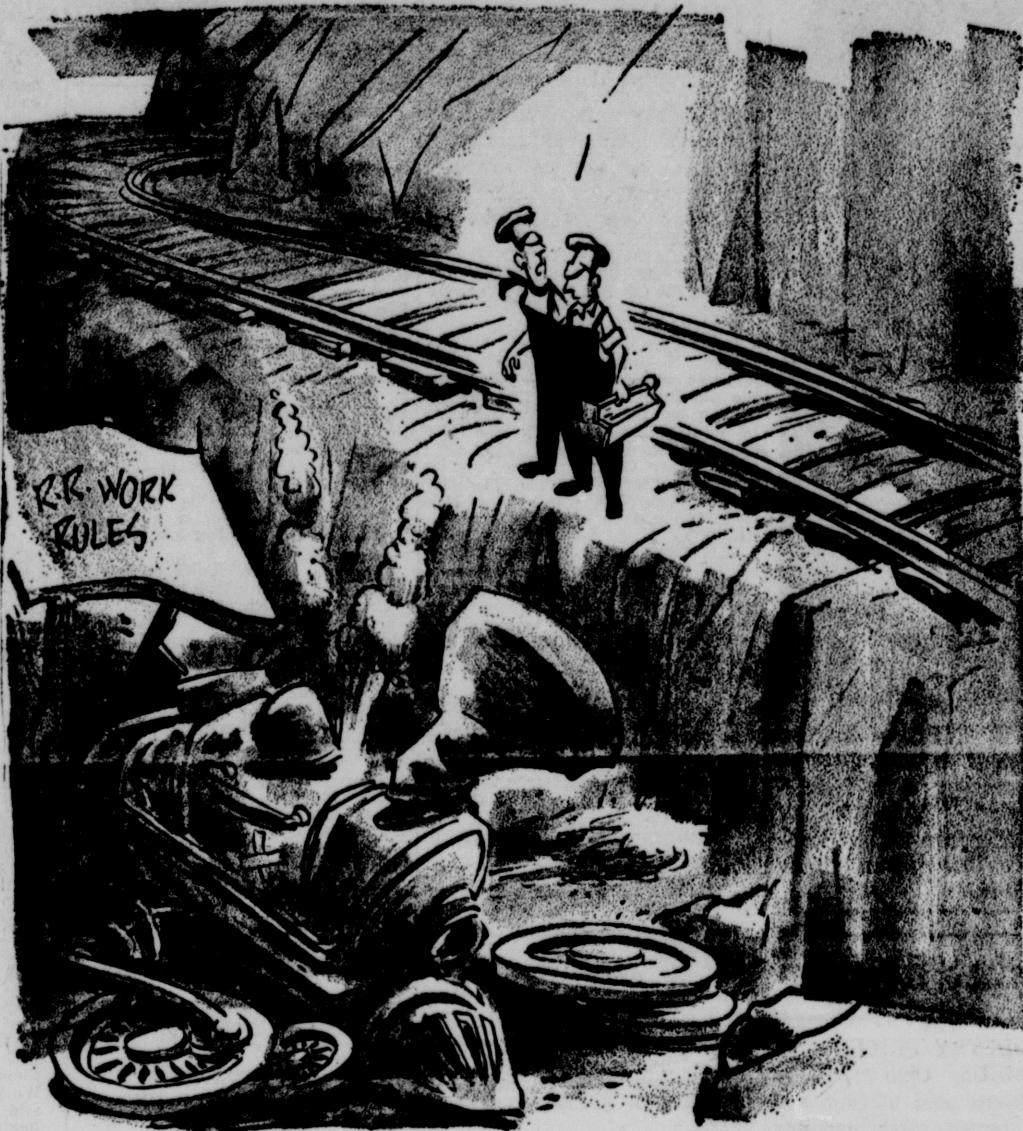

Many Hollywoodians, themselves, it is pointed out, are too busy to show up unless they are going to win a prize.

Movies are better than ever, no doubt about it. But Hollywood isn't better than ever. This year's "Oscar" award show, which usually has been an eye-popping, rib-tickling event, was a full-dress wake.

The spirit of the disaster was the rule about no ad-libbing. They have more fun than that when they give an 8-day clock to old Pete when he retires after 45 years in the melt shop. Someone always says something funny to divert attention from the tears in old Pete's eyes.

Poor Hollywood. Poor wooden Hollywoodians.

How Do We Get Her Back on the Track?

Under Labor Fire

By VICTOR RIESEL

Sen. J. William Fulbright is being tackled by some heavyweights who are coming in from left of center and not from the right wing.

Influential labor leaders resent the senators' statements that Fidel Castro is a "distasteful nuisance but not an intolerable danger." The national union leaders, especially those close to Mr. Labor himself, George Meany, interpret this to mean that the gentleman from Arkansas believes the cold war is over.

They don't agree. Furthermore, they plan to take their viewpoints directly to the White House and to Secretary of State Dean Rusk to make clear that they see a parallel between Fidel Castro's iron Communism and Adolf Hitler's iron cross Nazism.

They are flatly charging Sen. Fulbright with appeasement. And they are aiming for a head-on collision with him if he continues his effort to make his policy.

THE SENATOR already has been hit hard by AFL-CIO President Meany, whose eschews diplomatic talk for the bluntness of which he is a master. Meany's first attack on Fulbright was unleashed recently at the United Auto Workers' convention. His criticism of one of the nation's top foreign policy makers went unnoticed by the public.

"As you know, we are not only interested in international labor, we are interested in foreign policy," said Meany whose organization spends more than $1.5 million annually to aid anti-Communist movements abroad. "We are interested in preserving a type of society in America under which it is possible to maintain free trade unions."

"The chairman of our Senate came out . . . with a suggestion that we should accept this idea of Castro as a permanent way of life."

While he concedes it represents a threat to all of Latin America as well as us, he says we must be realistic and practical and accept it. I would like to say that this is the sixth year of the reign of Mr. Castro and he is still going strong.

"Cuba is still a base of Soviet Union anti-democratic propaganda for the Western Hemisphere, and I don't think we can afford to get tired and just say that this man is a fact a reality, and we have got to accept him."

AFTER THIS call for a continuing fight on Cuban Communism, Meany hit Fulbright with the appeasement charge.

"Back in 1938 the democracies of Western Europe got tired," Meany said. "They got tired of fighting for freedom and at that time, of course, very few people in America were concerned with the problem of Adolf Hitler. The labor movement, of course, was concerned. We recognized what was happening 4000 miles away as a threat to our way of life. . . ."

"England and France were close to this problem, but they got tired, and in 1938 they decided to accept Hitler as a way of life, as a fact, and at Munich for acquiescence to Fulbright's they turned over to him the Sudenland.

"This, of course, was when France was relaxing behind the Maginot Line and while England was asleep. Oh, yes, you remember, Hitler wasn't so bad, they said."

MEANY THEN pointed out that the Hitlerian gas chambers and other persecutions followed the Neville Chamberlain "peace in our time" statement after Munich.

"We all know the result of that," Meany concluded, "and we all must know by now that appeasement of any form of dictatorship has no real future as far as those who believe in freedom are concerned. We can't afford to get tired. . . ."

It's certain that this attack on the Arkansas senator was only the first of many which will come out of national AFL-CIO headquarters. There is concern in Meany's circle that national silence will be taken policies.

The unionists believe that the senator's speech is a trial balloon sent aloft for the State Department.

THERE IS FEAR that some elements in that department are planning to pressure President Johnson into attempting a rapprochement with Fidel Castro on the theory that he is a Castroite first and a Khrushchevite and Maoist last — and that he might be induced to "Tito" (break) his close ties with Moscow and Peking.

The AFL-CIO's International Dept., which has been revitalized under its new director, Jay Lovestone, will seek conferences with President Johnson, Dean Rusk and other government leaders in an effort to head off what they believe is a concerted move to reorganize Communist Cuba.

There's a showdown in the making — and not behind the scenes either.

Reservoir Manager Heard

This is a reply to Mrs. Thomas, Hundertmark, Beck, Paxson and Nedelka, the complaining fishermen at the city reservoir:

Concerning their charge that the manager is "discourteous and uncooperative," I or we have never approached anyone in a discourteous manner unless they were second offenders or openly refused to cooperate. Therefore, if enforcing the rules is discourteous, we may be guilty.

In regard to fishing from the wall April 4 and 5, I was not there on those days. However, had I been there, I would have issued warnings and would have arrested those who did not heed. My son, Harry, is only 19 and I find the majority of fishermen willing to cooperate, even though he has no authority. As to the patrol boat, it is a necessity, although sometimes a nuisance to fishermen.

On April 6 I found Mr. Hundertmark and Mr. Nedelka fishing at the reservoir, without permits, and in a restricted area. I went to the boathouse and got two resident permits which they bought but told them they would have to move out of the restricted area as fishing from the wall is not permitted. (Sec. 1, City Ordinance No. 620417 - 41). Mr. Nedelka never moved, although the other gentleman left and then came back. I waited a full hour before I approached them again and issued a citation for fishing in a restricted area. I believe an hour is ample time for anyone to make up his mind.

There are thousands who pay city taxes and the majority does not ask special favors.

I have a contract with the City Utilities Commission and my job is not a pleasant one but I intend to enforce the rules and regulations as specified in the city ordinance as long as I am manager of reservoir fishing. My employees have been instructed to be courteous to everyone and any departure from this rule will result in their immediate dismissal.

Ralph Harker, manager, Reservoir Fishing Commission, City of Salem.

Word About the Reservoir
In connection with fishing at the reservoir, I feel that Pete Harker is obligated to obey the rules set up for his running of the reservoir. These rules were established to maintain control and cleanliness of the water.

If a person violates these rules he ought to be set straight and if he continues to disobey he ought to be arrested and fined, according to the regulations.

Courtesy to fishermen is one of Pete's rules that I know he follows. He is fair along this line. If a fisherman has a gripe he ought to complain to the Utilities Commission, not to the public.

Just because you pay taxes, doesn't make you better than me or anyone else. The Utilities Commission runs the reservoir, not the public.

My advice is that if the rules are not satisfactory, then let's get together and see if they can be amended.

If more people take an interest in the reservoir, maybe a better park, a better place for children to spend time, a better place to enjoy nature in general could be achieved.

Poor PTA Attendance

Many parents criticize teachers and complain about school programs, yet they make no effort to attend PTO meetings where problems can be discussed.

Many criticize the Level System, and so do I, but how are we to have a better understanding of it if we do not get together to have an open discussion with the teacher and the principal.

The same goes for the grading system. This is the way to receive answers to many questions. After all the teacher can't do all the work; she needs your help also.

I was disappointed at the turnout at Monday nights PTO meeting. The meeting was held to elect new officers for the coming year. Our school has 554 children enrolled in it, but there were only 40 people at the meeting.

I hope that next year will be a better year than this one has been, and it can be if every parent helps.

The Illinois Vote

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Maybe two and two don't make four, after all, in national politics. Judging by some of the TV and radio broadcasts on Tuesday night and subsequent comments in the press, Sen. Goldwater got the highest number of votes in the Republican primary in Illinois but nevertheless suffered a "setback." He, of course, acquired almost all of the 48 delegates chosen this week by the Illinois voters in the Republican party but the impression conveyed by some of the broadcasters and newsmen was that this didn't mean very much.

What purportedly happened was that speculation attributed to a few persons here and there in the Goldwater camp in advance of the primary was construed as a firm estimate that the Arizona senator would get 80 per cent of the vote. Actually, he got 71 per cent of the combined vote cast for himself and his principal opponent, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine. Also, out of all the Republican votes cast, Sen. Goldwater obtained between 64 and 65 per cent. Even this isn't supposed to be a "victory," if the comments made on the Tuesday night broadcasts are to be accepted as accurate political analysis.

THE TRUTH is nobody could know ahead of time precisely how the citizens of Illinois were going to vote. In an election in which nearly a million votes are cast, it would be difficult to calculate beforehand with exactness whether a candidate would get 65 per cent or 70 per cent or 80 per cent.

Such commentaries, therefore, on the radio or TV serve only to mislead many people and take away from the victor in the election contest some of the prestige which he deserves when he gets a majority or more.

Sen. Goldwater's triumph in Illinois is an important development for many reasons. First of all, it shows his vote getting strength in a populous state which has more than four times as many delegates as were won by Henry Cabot Lodge, the "favorite son" in the New Hampshire primary.

It is to be noted that there were plenty of lead pencils available in Illinois, and there could have been "write-ins" for Ambassador Lodge or anybody else in the primary.

ACTUAL "WRITE-INS" were small in number and all together came to only about 10 per cent of the total vote cast, as against about 50 per cent in

New Hampshire. There wasn't, of course, any organized "write-in" campaign in Illinois, as was the case in New Hampshire.

What stands out in the Illinois Primary Election is the fact that the Republican voters of a Northern state — and a populous one, too — have chosen Sen. Barry Goldwater as their prospective nominee.

His strength heretofore has been believed to be largely in the South and Southwest. To capture Illinois is unquestionably an encouragement to his managers.

At present, the Arizona senator has the largest number of delegates pledged to him of any of the Republican aspirants. This doesn't mean that he will get the nomination. On many an occasion a candidate who has managed to mobilize the largest single bloc of delegates in advance of a convention hasn't always survived the first two or three ballots there.

THE PROBLEM for the Goldwater managers is to hold the delegates they now have and to win some from the ranks of the other candidates. Whether they can do this is anybody's guess, especially at this early stage of the pre-convention campaign.

The simple fact about the Illinois primary is that Sen. Goldwater, in a contest against another candidate—Sen. Margaret Chase Smith—got 71 per cent of the vote, and that no other would-be nominee arranged to have his name on the ballot.

In the same primary election, moreover, the Republican nomination for governor was won by Charles H. Percy, who got about 61 per cent of the total vote. The broadcasters did not tell their public whether or not this was in any way a "setback" for the winner.

So, on the whole the Illinois primary can be viewed as a step forward for the Goldwater candidacy and as a significant piece of political news which will make a favorable impression on some of the leaders in other states who may be sitting on the fence.

Certainly, as between the results in New Hampshire and those in Illinois, the latter primary is more meaningful in indicating national political trends.

IT TAKES more than just a few primaries, of course, to win presidential nomination but anyone managing a pre-convention campaign for his candidate would be glad to get a 71 per cent majority such as was registered in the Illinois primary when the votes of the Arizona senator and the senator from Maine were added together.

There have been very few primaries in other presidential years when such a substantial majority has been attained by the winner.

Matter of Fact

The eye functions as a mechanical device, like a camera taking pictures, but at the same time it is a living organism. As a mechanical device, it must contain all essential parts, properly constructed and interconnected to function efficiently as the organ of sight. As a living organism, the eye is composed of parts that are actually tissue, blood vessels, muscles and nerves similar to those found in the rest of the body.

Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Mommies: That is, those of you who are fortunate to have little babies in diapers.

We get so many letters about diapers, clean diapers, stiff diapers, grey diapers, etc., that I am going to try to answer your questions all in one column.

My method of washing diapers has been approved by doctors, institutes, etc. Even Laundromats have written that for his first time people are going beautiful "results" with my diaper method.

It has been established by the above sources that some diaper rashes are caused by "ammonia," an after product of wet diapers.

THIS CAN be neutralized by rinsing your diapers in vinegar water after washing them! There goes my old vinegar again ... Here's how:

After running your diapers through the complete washing machine cycle ... turn your washing machine on rinse AGAIN, fill the machine only half full of hot water, and add one cup full of vinegar (color of vinegar seems to make no difference). Then let the machine go through the rinse and spin cycle and DO NOT RINSE AGAIN!

Leave the vinegar solution in the diapers. The vinegar odor will leave when the diapers are dried in the dryer or on your clothes line.

I say (and will stand by it 'til my dying day) ... that after proper washing, a rinsing in vinegar-water solution can't be beat.

Vinegar, in my estimation and any manufacturers, chemists—and laundry people have written that they agree with me), is about the best here is for rinsing. Take my word for it: Vinegar neutralizes the ammonia in diapers.

Vinegar also helps to keep the rest of your laundry sweet and clean ...

DO YOU HAVE a favorite blouse or housedress which you wash and iron each week and yet it never really smells fresh and clean? This problem is especially bad in navy blues and blacks.

This (in my short and understandable words ... I hope!) is caused by perspiration which has accumulated and has not been neutralized enough by deodorants or by proper rinsing, etc.

Wash the garment and rinse it well, then soak it in some strong vinegar water if applicable to your material, THEN take your hands and rub briskly. DO NOT rinse this vinegar solution out. Let dry and proceed as usual ... See what happens!

After a few times you will be quite pleased. Then you will be back to good, clean, sweet-smelling clothes.

Many women have written that their ironing is easier after using the above method in their entire laundry on wash days.

So if you have these problems, do try a rinse in vinegar.

TELL YOU WHAT. Take only half of your diapers and try this method on them for a few weeks and just feel and see the difference yourself between your present washing method and the Heloise method. Do your own testing ...

But you will be mighty surprised!

I love all your babies, so if you have diaper problems try rinsing them in a vinegar solution with water and see how soft they are!

Write to Heloise any time. I'm here to help YOU.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Why buying bath towels, I always buy an EXTRA one. I fold the towel in half and cut to fit the toilet lid, allowing half inch for the seams. (A pattern can first be cut from a newspaper for a better fit.)

I stitch around the cover, leaving the bottom and about 9 inches of one side open. I hem the bottom and sew snap tape on the opening left in one side. This only takes about 15 minutes.

I slip cover the lid, snap it, and have a lid that is neat and covered on both sides (whether up or down) for the price of only ONE bath towel! A rug may be purchased to blend or match.

WINIFRED DODGE.

DEAR HELOISE: My husband has another use for your famous vinegar which he wants to pass along to your readers, or their husbands.

He uses vinegar to clean his hands after working with cement and mortar. He uses it straight from the bottle without any soap and it does wonders in removing the hardened concrete or cement. Also leaves his hands soft. After using the vinegar he just rinses his hands in water.

MRS. D. ANDERSON.

What price vinegar? I love it, love it, love it ...

Beauty for the asking

By JOSEPHINE KAERCHER, Beauty Consultant

MERLE NORMAN COSMETICS STUDIO

Once you've learned to take good care of your complexion, and apply makeup correctly, you're pretty well set about the way your face will look. But what about your hair?

Actually, care of your hair is important to your whole look as the meticulous care of your face, and should be just as ritualistic.

From my experience as a beauty consultant, let me give you just a few tips on hair care. First, select a shampoo which is best for your kind of hair. If your hair is normal or excessively oily, there's a pink pearly shampoo that's like a lotion. It not only cleans your hair and scalp, it also conditions your scalp.

If your hair is excessively dry, there's one golden liquid shampoo on the market which is absolutely wonderful for normalizing your scalp and encouraging your hair to retain its natural oils.

ures released by the Defense Department said this country has 750 intercontinental ballistic missiles, compared with fewer than 187 possessed by the Soviet Union. The United States has 640 strategic bombers, maintained constantly on alert, to the Russians' 120 heavy bombers and 150 medium bombers which could reach the United States, the Pentagon report said.

"The whole truth is not being told to the American people," Goldwater said. An Air Force reserve general, he has long contended that McNamara is depending too heavily on missiles over manned bombers.

Goldwater, bidding for votes in California's June 2 presidential primary against Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, said there's no doubt the United States remains the greatest military power in the world.

But, he said, "I do charge that under this administration we are losing this strength."

Returning to Washington after a shortened two-day speaking stint, Goldwater left behind a demand that Rockefeller supporters quit raising the extremist issue in the California campaign.

He urged the New York governor to call off a so-called task force of seven Republican state legislators, all members of the Rockefeller delegation, who charged that right-wing Goldwater supporters are out to take over the Republican party.

ence of certain enzymes or chemical starters, they can be made into longer chains of DNA or they can make long chains of another basic life material, RNA. The RNA is the gene copy.

It is RNA that directs the making of all kinds of proteins needed in each cell, by making use of some or all of 20 different units or amino acids.

Dr. Khorana's group developed two methods of making DNA chains of a known sequence of letters.

One method adds code letters one at a time to a growing chain. The other takes preformed pairs of code letters and polymerizes or runs them together. Needed is a chemical that brings about the proper linkage between the letters. Two have been found.

Deciphering of the code could lead to possible prevention or correction of some inherited diseases, better control over cancer, or improving animal, plant or even human heredity.

"There's not a scale large enough to weigh me," another round officer complained. He was told, "We'll take you to the stockyards; the scales there are larger."

All officers are required to weigh in once a month and the results are tabbed at headquarters.

The heaviest officer weighed 280 pounds; he is down to 220 now.

The body of Barney McCoy, 48, of Wallace, Idaho, had been located at midmorning Thursday, but debris in the deep shaft of the Star mine stalled recovery efforts.

The body of his companion, Reed Peck, 41, also from the Wallace area, was brought to the surface about five hours after the shaft caved in following an earth slippage in the tunnel area.

Hanoverton Grass Fire Sweeps Tract

HANOVERTON — Fire on Thursday swept over 35 acres of a meadow and grazing land east of here today, bringing out 16 firemen from here and Guilford Lake who fought the wind-whipped blaze for about four hours.

The blaze was spotted on the Norman Stroup farm two miles east of here at 12:50 p.m. by fire warden Roy Painter who notified the Hanover Volunteer Fire Department. Spurred on by the breeze, the flames got out of hand and the Guilford department was called to assist.

A nearby farmer, James Barnett, who was working with a tractor and three-bottom plow, rushed to the scene and cut a fire lane, two swaths wide, to keep the flames from proceeding toward a pine and Christmas tree planting a mile ahead in a northwesterly direction.

Painter said careless burning was apparently at fault in the blaze though the exact nature of the origin is unknown. District fire warden Robert C. McIntosh of Scio was expected to arrive today for further investigation.

The fire, which burned chiefly grass and small trees in a fence row, proceeded on the north side of Route 30 to Township Rd. 732 almost to Gas Tax Rd., Painter said.

The fire warden warned residents that permits must be obtained before outdoor burning can be done. "The risk in this dry, windy Spring weather is too high to begin an outdoor fire alone," Painter said.

shortly after his nationwide radio - television address had been broadcast.

The address had been recorded earlier. On the television screens, he appeared as vigorous as ever, and his voice was firm.

Cochin Hospital, in the southern part of the city on the Left Bank, specializes in the treatment of urinary diseases.

The agency said that the operation was not of an urgent nature.

The independent Radio Luxembourg said the operation was for removal of the prostate gland. But this was not confirmed by any official source in Paris.

The agency said plainclothes police and two Elysee Palace policemen were guarding a room in a section of the Cochin Hospital that is headed by Dr. Prof. Aboulker, a specialist in urinary troubles.

A member of the hospital staff who refused to be identified told The Associated Press "It's an open secret" that the room was occupied by the 73-year-old president.

The operation was performed this staff member said, by Aboulker and another urologist. He said the operation itself began this morning.

from 10 to 16 per cent of the national budget. He said housing construction has increased from 793 to 1,000 units a day.

France's revenues have risen 30 per cent during the five-year period. De Gaulle said. Therefore, he argued, why should France renounce its own nuclear defense program and cease to aid peoples "who aspire to our civilization?"

De Gaulle, reaching out for more influence in world affairs, is bidding for leadership of a third force in politics, economics and culture to exist between the United States and the Soviet Union.

These "two hegemonies," De Gaulle asserted, "are tending to share the world so long as Western Europe is not able nor does not have the will to organize itself so that the balance may be found."

"Why then should France, which is surging forward, keep herself apart from a movement which springs in great measure from her traditional genius and on which in the final analysis depend the peace and the fate of the world?"

He told opponents of his nuclear policy that while the Soviet menace exists, "France is in danger of destruction and invasion without having any certainty that her American allies, themselves directly exposed to death, would know how to prevent this for her."

Beckwith Jurors Still Deliberating

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A dozen white men try anew today to decide the fate of Byron De La Beckwith, the staunch segregationist accused of killing Mississippi's best-known Negro leader.

A previous jury, faced with the same decision, never was able to get together, and a mistrial ensued.

Beckwith is accused of murdering Medgar Evers. If convicted, he would get either death or life imprisonment, to be determined by the jury.

With seven hours of disagreement behind, the jury was told by Circuit Judge Leon Hendrick to eat a good breakfast, return to the little green-walled jury room and sift through the evidence a while longer.

Beckwith, 43, a fertilizer salesman from Greenwood, Miss., seemed relaxed and not at all worried as the hours dragged by. He joked with his guards, talked with his 17-year-old son and waved and nodded at spectators who filled the courtroom at first, then drifted away as time went on.

The jurors began deliberations early Thursday afternoon. With time out for supper, they kept it until the judge sent them to bed at 9:45 p.m.

In the first trial, the jury deliberated 11 hours before Hendrick gave up. That jury reportedly was split 6-6.

The state charged Beckwith was the sniper who stood in a cluster of bushes and honey-suckle vines and shot Evers in the back last June 22. It pictured him as, "A man with a motive. A man at war."

year term, and William Hotchkiss, 33, Akron electronics technician.

Brown, 57, is contesting Congressman-at-large Robert Taft Jr., 47, son of the late senator and grandson of President William Howard Taft, for the Republican senatorial nomination.

Glenn entered the senatorial race in his home state Jan. 17. He also is candidate for delegate to the Democratic National Convention.

He planned to retire from the Marine Corps March 1 to wage a whirlwind campaign for nomination. Backers flocked to his bandwagon.

But a head injury suffered Feb. 26 in a bathroom fall laid Glenn low and he attempted to withdraw as a candidate March 30.

The space hero, first American to orbit the earth, fell against the bathtub in his Columbus apartment while struggling with a balky medicine cabinet door.

First reports indicated his injuries were minor. They were diagnosed later as affecting his inner ear, causing loss of balance and nausea.

Glenn was moved to a Texas military hospital March 6 where physicians said recovery might take months. He now is recovering at home.

Glenn-for-senator State Headquarters were disbanded but diehard backers vowed to keep his campaign alive at the county level despite Glenn's insistence that he is out of the race.

The period between his announcement and avowed withdrawal covered 73 days.

Stalin—his 70th birthday party went on for months of praise—and reburied the dictator in an obscure grave.

Khrushchev became a "Hero of The Soviet Union" by order of the presidium of the Supreme Soviet. In receiving the highest award of his nation, Khrushchev joined a company that includes cosmonauts and Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

The decree cited Khrushchev's work "in building a Communist society, in strengthening the economic and defensive might of the Soviet Union, in developing fraternal friendship of the people of the USSR, in carrying out Leninist peaceful foreign policy and in recognizing his exceptional services in the struggle against Nazi invaders in the period of the great patriotic war."

Khrushchev's previous honors include three awards of Hero of Socialist Labor and a Lenin Peace Prize in 1959. He usually wears four medals on his civilian suit.

In a ceremony today in the Yekaterina Hall of the great Kremlin Palace, Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev presented Khrushchev the Order of Lenin and the Gold Star Medal in connection with his hero's award.

The presidium of the supreme Soviet joined with two groups that Khrushchev heads, the Communist Party Central Committee and the Council of Ministers, in a birthday message that occupied newspaper front pages.

Communist leaders here for the birthday were Premier Todor Zhivkov of Bulgaria, President Antonin Novotny of Czechoslovakia, Party Secretary Walter Ulbricht of East Germany, Premier Janos Kadar of Hungary, Premier Yumzhagim Tsendenbal of Mongolia and Party Secretary Wladyslaw Gomulka of Poland.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT

Lot of Work Makes Fat Vanish

Obesity is generally regarded as a serious health hazard. One pathology professor was fond of saying that carrying around a lot of excess weight was an athletic event. But he added sadly, it is not a "fun" sport. He would then demonstrate an enlarged tired old heart with the resulting hardening of the arteries. Being overweight not only shortens life; it also makes it harder for your doctor to detect cancer and other tumors under the thick layers of fat.

What leads some people to eat more food than they need day after day is a subject scientists are still studying. One authority has classified problem eaters into several groups.

THE OBESE PERSON who comes from a family of over-eaters usually does not have any guilt feelings about his size. He enjoys eating and sees no reason for wanting to reduce. A child brought up in such an atmosphere merely follows the example of those about him.

The next group includes the true gourmet who eats slowly and rarely snacks between meals. His problem is not eating, and his chances for reducing are usually good. The ice-box raider who gets up at night for a little snack so he can go to sleep again and the compulsive all-day-long nibbler are usually victims of emotional tensions. Trying to get them to reduce is a hard job.

Finally, there are those who weigh 300 pounds or more. They probably have emotional problems too. But they refuse to air them and they stubbornly resist reducing.

STUDIES HAVE SHOWN that if a fat person is allowed to eat all he wants, he will not gain weight but will maintain himself at a certain level. This is because, although he eats more than enough to supply his physiologic needs, he feels compelled to satisfy his psychologically motivated appetite.

Until his appetite is satisfied, he honestly believes that he has eaten like a bird. What he forgets is that most birds eat nearly all day long and consume about half their body weight daily.

Most doctors now believe that the overweight person eats too much because of emotional conflicts. In other words they seek solace in food. Some persons with a feeling of inferiority yearn for greatness.

By overeating they gain weight and this makes them feel more important. They believe that they can reduce any time they want to. This feeling gives them a sense of power that they will not give up by putting it to a test.

Youth Honors U.S. To Recognize 'Presidential Scholars'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is launching a program of recognizing outstanding high school graduates as "presidential scholars" in the hope that other youths will follow their example.

Up to 121 of the bright young people—a boy and girl from each of the 50 states, two from Puerto Rico, the District of Columbia and the U.S. territories and up to 15 at large—will be brought to Washington as the guests of the government next month and receive from President Johnson a medallion symbolizing the honor.

Annual cost of the program was estimated at $25,000, to be divided by the Office of Education and the National Science Foundation. This will cover travel expenses, paper work and the like. The scholars will receive no cash award.

"These awards," said Johnson in announcing the program at his news conference Thursday, "are to recognize the most precious resource of the United States—the brain power of its young people."

The selections will be made by a presidential commission of seven: Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University; Leonard Bernstein, composer and conductor; Katherine Anne Porter, author; Dr. Albert W. Some People May Be Born To Be Fat

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — "Some people may be born to be fat," a Virginia physician says.

Experiments with fat rats and plump mice seem to bear out this theory, Dr. William Parson, chairman of internal medicine at the University of Virginia Medical School, said Thursday.

The tests indicate that some of the rodents grow fat as a result of abnormality in the control center of their brains, Parson told physicians attending a postgraduate course sponsored by the Alton Ochsner Medical Foundation.

Parson said other rats became obese because of an abnormality in their fatty tissues. "We've always assumed that people who are obese eat to gratify their emotional cravings," he continued. "But our experiments indicate that although there may be this compulsion to eat, the compulsion is secondary to the abnormality in the fatty tissues."

"More than half the fat people we see eat only one big meal a day," he said. "As a result, they become fatter — just like the experimental rats."

He said the whole problem of obesity often proves frustrating to doctors, particularly because "you see people keep dieting and dieting and yet going back to overweight."

"You can't help but wonder if perhaps it may be due to a complex metabolic abnormality we don't understand. After carrying on these animal experiments, we aren't so cocky about the obesity problem anymore."

New Waterford

TWENTY LOCAL volunteer firemen will participate in the weekly training sessions to be conducted by Ray Niemi, assistant chief at Warren. The Fairfield - Waterford Board of Education is cooperating in the program, which was arranged by Fire Chief Joseph Fittante.

The services of the instructor are being made available by the Ohio Department of Education. The fire department will sponsor a roast beef dinner from noon to 3 p.m. Sunday at the fire hall. Firemen have awarded a contract to Bratt and Lower for the installation of a suspended ceiling in the engine room.

Rail Talks Continue at Faster Pace

WASHINGTON (AP) — With President Johnson still hopeful of voluntary settlement in the national railroad crisis, negotiators and federal mediators continued talks at a stepped-up pace today.

"I am not an overly optimistic man, but I do believe that under our collective bargaining system a result can be reached," Johnson told a news conference Thursday.

"I hope and pray it will be by the end of the week," he said. The comment followed Johnson's statement Wednesday that "we should know definitely, no later than next Monday, whether the parties to this dispute will settle it by the process of bargaining and by responsible reason."

Johnson didn't say what he would do if the talks fail to remove the threat of a nationwide strike at 12:01 a.m. April 25.

The White House said day and night talks, with mediators trying to get both sides to give ground, would continue until Monday.

George Reedy, White House press secretary, indicated there is little possibility a final determination will be announced this weekend.

Johnson's implied Monday deadline would leave him another five days to consider other measures if the talks fail, but he continued to shy away from any hint that he would ask for emergency legislation in that event.

The dispute between the carriers and the brotherhoods goes back five years. Johnson barely averted a strike last Thursday night when he won agreement to a 15-day truce to permit a last-ditch round of negotiations.

Summitville Set For Street Work

SUMMITVILLE — An order to purchase slag for the summer street resurfacing program was approved when the Summitville Village Council met Thursday at the Township Hall, with Mayor Ernest Phillips presiding.

Legal notices for acceptance of sealed bids for street lighting were posted in five business places April 6. Bids will be accepted until noon Thursday when they will be opened.

Bills totaling $238 were approved to be paid. William Swinger and Raymond Arsuffi were absent.

Next meeting is May 21.

Reports Given at Regional Planning Group's Meeting

The Columbiana County Regional Planning Commission met Thursday night in the county commissioners office in the Courthouse at Lisbon and heard reports from committee chairmen.

Six committees consisting of 135 citizens from all parts of the county are at work collecting data on existing situations in their respective fields. Recommendations for future development will be made later by each of the committees. All areas, interests and occupational groups are represented on the committees.

A meeting of all committee members was held recently in the Lincoln Elementary School, Lisbon.

It was again pointed out that the planning commission has no authority except to recommend. A general comprehensive plan will eventually be prepared. Members of the commission and committeemen serve without compensation or reimbursement for travel expenses.

Plans were made for future meetings of the commission which will be held on the second Thursday of each month.

The resignation of George Steele of East Liverpool was accepted.

The next meeting will be May 14 at 8:30 p.m. in the county commissioners office.

Buick has a great transmission.

An automobile transmission, we grant you, isn't the most soul-stirring subject on earth. Nothing to look at either.

But if you'd like for your next new car to give you a better break on performance and gasoline mileage, something happened last week to be your guide.

The Los Angeles to New York Mobil Economy Run proved one thing for sure. There's quite a difference in the transmission of new cars.

Three out of four for Buick

The long-time champion in the transmission league—Buick—walked off with the 1964 economy pennant. No other single make of car won as many events as Buick. Four entries, three winners.

The winning Specials carried the new Super Turbine 300 automatic transmission; the LeSabre was equipped with the Super Turbine 400 (both optional at extra cost). They're the latest in a long line of Buick transmissions well known for their smoothness and absence of "shift feel". The Super Turbine is a refined and improved torque converter type to help you safely pass cars and trucks as well as gas stations. You'll hear a lot about it in the next couple of years as this modern kind of transmission is adopted by more and more car builders.

What about engines?

Of course, an efficient transmission gets more efficient when teamed up with a lean, agile engine. The winning Buick power plants were our new V-6 and V-8.

The 300 cubic inch V-8 is the winning Buick Special (the lowest priced of all Buicks) and the Buick LeSabre (the lowest priced big Buick) is like a well-conditioned fighter. All muscle, no fat. Weighs in at far less than other V-8's of similar punch. It took every other V-8 in the Economy Run.

Your type of driving—regular gas The Run was through cities and towns, across super highways, in traffic, out of traffic. This was not race track driving or proving ground driving. This was your kind of driving—even though you can't expect to get as good mileage as these expert drivers in their finely tuned production cars.

The distance was 3,243 miles, about what most families log in four months. All three Buicks used regular gas.

So the Economy Run is not just a cross country tour for the Mobil people and a few car buffs. It's a reliable test of a car's power team and what it's able to squeeze out of its fuel.

We don't expect everybody to rush out this week-end to buy a new Buick just because we won a few economy trophies.

There are so many other good reasons for leaning to Buick that economy usually gets second billing. There's styling, naturally. An unusually great ride. Extraordinary engineering and workmanship. And very young performance. Small wonder Buick sales are running at 11.5% over last year.

But it's nice to get economy as a plus in a Buick. Beyond the dollars saved on gasoline, there's a certain pride in knowing you have a car that's built to get the most out of every tank of gasoline.

Wouldn't You Really Rather Have a Buick?

TOWN THAT'S DYING

Erosion by two rivers and landslides have caused the town to fall to pieces.

THE SMALL TOWN of Civita di Bagnoregio, 80 miles north of Rome, is dying, but it is determined to finish its illustrious life in a blaze of glory. Even as it crumbles down the hill atop which it is perched, the town is cashing in on its agony by urging tourists to "come see the dying town." Two rushing rivers at the foot of the hill have caused erosion and landslides that have eaten away the outer edges of the town through the years. Only 30 persons remain there.

The ghost town look is everywhere in the once-crowded streets of the city.

Rosburg Cards 67 To Take Lead In Houston Open

Spain's Sota In 2nd Place

Tourney Favorite Nicklaus Fires 76

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON (AP) — Rob Rosburg said two years ago he never would play in Houston again but he started the second round of the $50,000 Houston Golf Classic today with a one-stroke lead.

After posting a four-under-par 67 first round Rosburg, with a sheepish grin, said he was a bit mad at Houston two years ago when the crowd applauded after he missed a short putt and then booed as he walked off the 18th green.

"It had gotten into the newspapers that I had criticized the condition of the Memorial Park course," Rosburg said. "When they booed me off that green I swore I'd never return."

Rosburg did not play here last year and the Classic moved this year from Memorial's municipal layout to the 7,233-yard, par 35-36-71 Sharpstown Country Club course.

Rosburg avoided comparing the two courses while talking about the 33-34-67 that left him one stroke ahead of Ramon Sota, a young newcomer from Spain, and two veterans of the PGA tour, Billy Maxwell and Jimmy Clark.

"I decided to return to Houston because a pinched nerve has kept me out of too many tournaments this year," said the 1959 PGA champion. He is seeking his first tournament championship since the 1961 Bing Crosby National.

"The never is in the neck but it causes intense pain in my right arm. I'm having it treated here and just hope things go well the next few days," he added.

Rosburg, 37, also sprained his right ankle last Monday when he stepped in a hole while making his initial inspection of the Sharpstown course.

"The ankle hurts but it doesn't hurt my game," he said.

Sota, who won Spain's PGA championship at the age of 18, finished early and saw his 34-34-68 hold the lead until Maxwell, playing in the fifth from the last threesome, matched the Spaniard by sinking a seven-foot birdie putt on the final green.

Jack Nicklaus, a 3-1 favorite, took a 76 while playing the first 18 without benefit of a practice round.

Grouped at 69 were Lionel Hebert, Rex Baxter Jr., Doug Ford, Ken Venturi, and Don Cherry.

Bob Charles, defending champion from New Zealand, had a par 71.

Milwaukee Edges Houston 6-5

Cincy Hands LA 5-2 Setback; Cards' Simmons Blanks Giants

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Cincinnati's fleet-footed Vada Pinson, who wound up in court last year for failing to speed, may have solved his problem. Criticized last year for not capitalizing on his speed by bunting for base hits, Pinson has stepped off to an unusually quick April start without laying one down. Instead, he's been laying them up the middle for base hits.

Pinson lashed three singles Thursday night and along with rookie Chico Ruiz, who collected a single, double and triple, provided enough firepower for the Reds to hand the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers their second loss in three games, 5-2.

Pinson, who has been a National League batting title contender since he became a Cincinnati regular in 1959, has amassed 965 hits over that stretch—more than Stan Musial, 975; Willie Mays, 954, and Hank Aaron, 914, in their first five years.

Yet he always has been beset by the bunt-more-often critics. He was so incensed by one writer last season that the two tangled in the Reds' dressing room and ultimately finished up in a no-decision court battle with the matter dropped.

Whether to bunt or not still is up to Pinson, but he may be able to solve some of his problems with a solid start. He's 4-for-8 now, quite an improvement over last season when he managed only 10 hits in 60 April at-bats and still finished with a .313 average.

While Pinson was collecting three hits, St. Louis' Curt Simmons allowed only three to the hard-hitting San Francisco Giants, starting off his 17th season with a 20 shutout. In the only other game scheduled, Milwaukee edged Houston 6-5 with Hank Aaron and Felipe Alou playing key roles.

The Reds' Ruiz-Pinson combine was too much for the Dodgers. Ruiz doubled in the first and scored on a single by Pinson, then tripled in the fifth and rode home on another single by Pinson. In the fifth, Ruiz and Pinson both singled with Deron Johnson's sacrifice fly accounting for the run batted in.

That was more than enough for Jim O'Toole and Joe Nuxhall, who checked the Dodgers on eight hits. O'Toole retired the first 14 batters he faced, finally needed Nuxhall's relief help in the ninth. The loser was Bob Miller.

Twins Triumph 6-2, Rookie Tony Oliva Gets Three Hits

By The Associated Press
Tony Oliva, who reached the United States on his brother's name, appears ready to go far in the American League on his own.

The rookie outfielder, so highly thought of that he forced defensive star Vic Power off first base, is setting the early batting pace for Minnesota with five hits in 10 times at bat in two games.

He clouted a single, a double and a triple and knocked in two runs Thursday night as the Twins whipped Washington 6-2 for their second victory in two games.

The 22-year-old Oliva's real first name is Pedro but he has been known as Tony ever since he used his brother's passport to get into the United States from Cuba. Pedro or Tony, Oliva is a potent addition to the Twins' already powerful lineup.

With Oliva on the scene, though, the Twins were faced with a dilemma. They already had Harmon Killebrew, Bob Allison and Jimmie Hall in the outfield. The answer, then, was to move Allison to first, relegating the popular Power to a utility role.

Besides Oliva, Bob Tillman and John Orsino started at bat in the American League Thursday. Tillman pounded out four hits, sparking Boston to an 11-inning 4-3 victory over the New York Yankees, while Orsino slugged a two-run homer that carried Baltimore past Chicago 4-3.

Oliva got the Twins off to a 10 lead in the first inning, doubling home Rich Rollins, who also doubled. The Twins broke the game open with three runs in the sixth on Zoilo Versalles' twisting pop fly triple with the bases loaded.

Don Lock homered in the second and Ken Hunt hit one in the ninth for the Senators' scoring.

Tillman, a catching disappointment for the Red Sox last year, socked three singles against the Yankees before he tripled in the 11th. Harry Ford,

Record Set In Pittsburgh Swim Event

PITTSBURGH (AP) — One record was in the books after only two events and there was promise of more to come as the senior National AAU swimming and diving championships entered their second day today.

The record belongs to Sharon Finneran of the Santa Clara, Calif., Swim Club. She swam the 1,650-yard freestyle in the University of Pittsburgh's 25-yard pool Thursday in 18:31.7 for an American and championship short-course record.

This was the first year the event has been held in the women's indoor championships.

Miss Finneran's mark easily eclipsed the best previous applied-for time of 18:42.3 set by her last Feb. 28.

In the only other event Thursday night Mrs. Barbara McAlister Talmage of the Dick Smith Swim Gym in Phoenix, Ariz., won the one-meter diving title, defeating defending champion Patsy Willard, a member of the same team.

The new titlist, trailing Miss Willard by a narrow margin going into the final round, put on a brilliant display to garner 409.05 points. Miss Willard had 397.55.

United Picks Up 2nd Straight Track Win

Gene Metzgar set a record in the broad jump as he sparked United to a victory in a triangular track and field meet at Sebring Thursday.

A senior veteran, Metzgar leaped 19 feet, 1 3/4 inches for the new mark. He also was first in the two distance races and fourth in the high jump.

United chalked up its second straight win of the campaign by compiling 69 points. Sebring came in second with 49, and Crestview finished third with 30.

Metzgar, who placed third in the half-mile run in the Class A state finals at Columbus last year, was timed in 5:09.9 in the mile run, and 2:11.4 in the 880-yard run yesterday.

KEN VOTAW was also a double winner for the Golden Eagles. He took the discus throw with a toss of 119 feet, 4 inches and the high jump by clearing 5 feet, 5 inches. He finished second in the shot put.

The closest race of the meet was in the 120-yard high hurdles. Ed Wayt was timed in 15.3 seconds to edge Kovach, who was clocked in 15.6.

Wyatt also won the 180-yard low hurdles for the hosts.

Jerry Tupper gave Crestview its only first place when he won the shot put with a heave of 44 feet, 4 inches.

Un. was first in eight of the 14 events held, including the mile relay, which it won in 3:52.

11 New Cars Are Entered At Canfield

With a star-studded field all set, Canfield Speedway is ready to launch the 1964 stock car racing season on Saturday night.

At least 11 brand new 1964 model cars will be on hand for the Automobile Racing Club of America duel over the quarter-mile track. Five events are carded, headed by a 100-lap feature.

Driving 1964 models will be Chevrolet, John Somerville of Clarksville and Charles Glotzbach of Edwardsville; Pontiac, Virgil Barbee of Detroit; Plymouth, Jim Cushman of Columbus, Earl Balmer of Floyd Knobs, Ind., and Ken Cline of Canton, and Fords, Nelson Stacy of Daytona Beach, Les Snow of Bloomington, Ind. Marty Rater of Findlay Lake, N.Y., Iggy Katona of Willis, Mich., and Tom Dill of Erie, Pa.

Stacy, a nationally famous driver, will be appearing at Canfield for the first time since 1960. After winning the MARC national championship in 1958, 1959 and 1960, he moved to the NASCAR circuit and gained national prominence by winning the "Southern 500" at Darlington and the "World 600" at Charlotte, N.C. Stacy proved that he would be a real threat in the ARCA this year by starting off with a victory in his 17th year in racing, which is his full-time business. Katona won the MARC championship in 1955, 1956, 1957 and 1962. He is the only three-time winner of the "Dayton 300."

ARCA President John Marcum of Toledo announced that at least 20 cars would start in the 100-lap feature. Time trials will get under way at 7 p.m. First race is at 8:30 p.m. Races to the speedway open at 6:30 p.m.

Giardello Boxes Rivero In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Joey Giardello, who hasn't fought since winning a decision over Dick Tiger for the middleweight championship last Dec. 7, has put a premium on strength for his 10-round, non-title fight against Juan (Rocky) Rivero here tonight.

Giardello, 33, was expected to weigh in today at 164 pounds, one pound under the limit in the overweight match. Rivero, the Argentine middleweight champ, is expected to weigh about the same for the fight, which will be televised by ABC starting at 10 p.m., EST.

"Joey weighed 158½ against Tiger," said Giardello's trainer, Adolph Ritacco. "His best fighting weight is around 159 or 160, but he'll be stronger at 164. This Rivero is a pretty strong guy."

"I expect Joey to stop him. Rivero is made to order for him. He rushes in. Not too much defense."

"They say Rivero has a knock-out record, but who did he knock out?"

The 26-year-old South American has kayaked 36 opponents en route to a 41-10-1 record.

Known more as a puncher than boxer, Rivero was stopped in the seventh round by Flor-entine Fernandez in New York last Dec. 13.

Giardello, with a 101-22 mark, relies mainly on speed, a good left hook and jab. He is a solid counterpuncher. The champion will be trying to extend his streak of five straight victories.

He doesn't feel his four-month layoff will hurt him.

Matchmaker Larry Atkins said he expects a crowd of 7,500, with a gate "upwards of $35,000."

Salem 8th, 7th Grade Track Teams Beat East Palestine

COURT ACTION STARTS MONDAY

But it is the kind of court action you enjoy. It is tennis court action on the three beautiful "Lay-Kold" courts at Centennial Park. As a man who started to play tournament tennis over 25 years ago, I want to say these are really fine courts. The properties that make these courts wonderful to play on, now let me tell you why. You are able to damage from rocks, baseball shoes, etc. If you see them being abused, help out our park personnel and protect our courts.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

The other evening I got a call from an old buddy of mine, Bob Sanders. We worked at Demings and when the war broke out we enlisted in the air force together. Bob is the one who gave me the nickname Bo Bo. He pulled a lot of other tricks on me too.

Bob wants me to announce that the Washingtonville Ruritans are going to canvas the town this Saturday and sell products made by the blind people. Any of you people from Washingtonville who need some of these items, here is your chance to help a couple fine organizations and my old buddy too.
